

GROVER SPEAKS.

The President Makes an Address
In Princeton College.

Time for Patriots to Stand as One Against Insidious Doctrines.

Our Universities Should Attempt to Prevent and Correct Popular Delusions—
Suffrages of the People Can Not Change Natural Laws.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 22.—At the sesquicentennial celebration of the founding of Princeton college Thursday, President Cleveland, who had been invited to address the students, alumni, and various dignitaries of the church and state, departed somewhat from the line that he was expected to follow. In fact, he created a sensation by utilizing the opportunity to make his first public utterance since the present presidential campaign began of opinions concerning political affairs. The address was in part as follows:

Mr. President and Ladies and Gentlemen—As those in different occupations and with different training each see most plainly in the same landscape view those features which are the most nearly related to their several habitual environments, so, in our contemplation of an event or an occasion, each individual especially observes and appreciates, in the light of his mode of thought, such of its features and incidents as are most in harmony with his mental situation.

To-day, while all of us warmly share the general enthusiasm and felicitation which pervade this assemblage, I am sure of official places and preferences. Those who in university or college have had an opportunity to study the mission of our institutions, and who in the light of history, have learned the danger to a people of their neglect of the patriotic cure they owe the national life entrusted to their keeping, should be well fitted to constantly admonish their fellow citizens that the usefulness and beneficence of their plan of government can only be preserved through their unselfish and loving support, and their contented willingness to accept in full return the peace, protection and opportunity which it impartially bestows.

do not forget the practical necessity of political parties, nor do I deny their desirability. I recognize wholesome differences of opinion touching legitimate governmental policies, and would by no means control or limit the utmost freedom in their discussion. I have only attempted to suggest the important patriotic service which our institutions of higher education and their graduates are fitted to render our people in the enforcement of those immutable truths and fundamental principles which are related to our national condition, but should never be dragged into the field of political strife nor impressed into the service of partisan contention.

When the excitement of party warfare presses dangerously near our national safeguards, I would have the intelligent conservatism of our universities and colleges war the contestants in impressive tones against the perils of a breach impossible to repair. When popular discontent and passion are stimulated by the arts of designing partisans to a pitch perilously near to class hatred or sectional anger, I would have our universities and colleges sound the alarm in the name of American brotherhood and fraternal dependence.

When selfish interest seeks undue private benefit through governmental aid and public places are claimed as reward of party service, I would have our universities and colleges persuade the people to a relinquishment of the demand for party spoils and exhort them to a disinterested and patriotic love of their government for its own sake and because in its true adjustment an unperverted operation it secures to every citizen his just share of the safety and prosperity it holds in store for all. When a design is apparent to lure the people from their honest thoughts and to blind their eyes to the salient of national dishonor and bad faith, I would have Princeton university, panoplied in her patriotic traditions and glorious memories and joined by all the other universities and colleges of our land cry out against the infliction of this treacherous and fatal wound.

I would have the influence of these institutions on the side of religion and morality. I would have those they send out among the people not ashamed to acknowledge God and to proclaim His interposition in the affairs of men, enjoining such obedience to His laws as makes manifest the path of national perpetuity and prosperity.

It is exceedingly unfortunate that politics should be regarded in any quarter as an unclean thing, to be avoided by those claiming to be educated or respectable. It would be strange indeed if anything related to the administration of our government or the welfare of our nation should be essentially degraded. I believe it is not a superstitious sentiment that leads to the conviction that God has watched over our national life from its beginning. Who will say that the things worthy of God's regard and fostering care are unworthy of the touch of the wisest and best of men?

I would have those sent out by our universities and colleges not only the counsellors of their fellow-countrymen, but the tribunes of the people—fully appreciating every condition that presses upon their daily life, sympathetic in every untoward situation, quick and earnest in every effort to advance their happiness and welfare, and prompt and sturdy in the defense of all their rights.

I have but imperfectly expressed the thoughts to which I have not been able to give utterance on an occasion so full of glad significance, and so pervaded by the atmosphere of patriotic aspiration. Born of these surroundings, the hope can not be vain that the time is at hand when all our countrymen will more deeply appreciate the blessings of American citizenship, when their disinterested love of their government will be quickened, when fanaticism and passion shall be banished from the field of politics, and when all our people, discarding every difference of condition or opportunity, will be seen under the banner of American brotherhood, marching steadily and unflinchingly on toward the bright heights of our national destiny.

SPANISH SOLDIERS

In the Philippine Islands Set an Example That the Natives Exceed in Cruelty.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A San Francisco special to a local paper says: Cuban atrocities are mild compared to those taking place in the Philippine islands, where the Spanish are trying to suppress a revolt of the natives. Some indication of affairs has been learned from oriental papers.

The most shocking incidents of the bloody reprisals was the treatment of a Spanish lieutenant and his family. The Spanish had captured a number of prisoners and as an object lesson to the natives disemboweled two and hung their bloody bodies on one of the gates of the town. The infuriated rebels, eager for vengeance, gathered a force and hurried to the home of a Spanish lieutenant on the outskirts of Manila. They captured the officer, his wife and 12-year-old daughter and then began a bloody scene of torture. The most savage instincts of the natives were aroused. Before the eyes of his wife and daughter the lieutenant's skin was slit all over his body. Then the torturers crucified him, pinning him outstretched to a tree with their long knives. They then turned to the woman and the girl, giving the fullest play to their animal instincts and wreaking a disgusting vengeance before the dying eyes of the husband and father. The Spanish are doing their best to keep the news of these atrocities from leaving the islands, opening all the mails.

AN OVATION

Given Princess Helene, the Alliance of the Crown Prince of Italy in Rome.

ROME, Oct. 22.—Princess Helene, of Montenegro, the affianced bride of the prince of Naples, whose marriage to the crown prince of Italy will take place on October 24, arrived here at 11 o'clock Thursday forenoon, accompanied by the members of her family, who are to be present at the wedding. From an early hour in the morning until the arrival of the princess, the streets from the railway station to the Piazza di Quirinal were crowded with people, and along the entire route there was a profuse display of Italian and Montenegrin flags. The Piazza Termini had been transformed into a huge amphitheater, capable of accommodating 5,000 persons, and this was filled to overflowing.

Included in the vast crowd which awaited the arrival of the princess outside the station were a large number of the societies of Rome and the provinces, with bands of music and flying flags and banners. Assembled within the station for the purpose of greeting the future crown princess of Italy were Marquis Di Rudini, prime minister, and the members of his cabinet, the mayor and the municipal council of Rome, the senators, the members of the chamber of deputies, members of the diplomatic corps and other dignitaries.

CONGRESS

To Be Memorialized in Regard to the Threatened Destruction of the Eads Jetties.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—A meeting of the board of trade was held Wednesday to consider a call for a call of all the commercial bodies of this city to memorialize congress in reference to the threatened destruction of the Eads jetties. A crevasse 3,000 feet wide has gradually been made near the mouth of the river and it is carrying off much of the water which ought to pass through the jetties, and if not closed it will ultimately ruin them. To close the crevasse it will require a large sum of money, and as the state can not raise the money congress will be asked to appropriate it.

Intimidating Witness.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 22.—John Hollinhead, the Washington county farmer who participated in the lynching of Christopher Chambliss several months ago, then turned state's evidence and convicted several of the lynchmen who were sentenced to life imprisonment a few days ago, was Wednesday assassinated in the roadway near his home, being shot from ambush by a dozen men. Some thirty other citizens of Washington are under indictment on suspicion of having participated in the lynching, but all the state's witnesses have left for parts unknown.

A Noted Criminal.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 22.—The police have obtained information leading them to the belief that George Kessler, the Westfield, O., somnambulist, who walked from a New York express train near this city about a week ago, and who subsequently died from his injuries, was a noted criminal. They declare that in his effects they found green goods circulars addressed to George Trainor, No. 235 East Tenth street, New York. This name was also engraved on the watch which was found on the man.

Hocking Valley Miners Return to Work.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—The miners employed in several of the larger mines of the Hocking Valley, decided Wednesday to return to work at the reduced wages of 45 cents per ton. There will not be more than 2,000 idle miners in the state after Thursday. This will probably break the backbone of the strike movement.

Strike Julian Pannefote in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Sir Julian Pannefote, British ambassador to the United States, arrived on the steamer Germania Thursday. Sir Julian, when interviewed at quarantine, declined to discuss international questions.

THREE NAMES

Agreed Upon at a Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Catholic University as Successor to the Late Rector Keane.

Vacancies in the Board Filled by Symptons With Bishop Keane and Archbishop Ireland, of the American Party.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Although the proceedings of the board of directors of the Catholic university, which began its session Wednesday, were hedged about with secrecy, some portions of the business transacted has become known. It was anticipated that the vacancies in the board to be filled Wednesday would be filled by the selection of clergymen not in sympathy with Archbishop Ireland and Bishop Keane. The contrary, however, proved to be the case.

The resignation of Bishop Keane as a member of the board, tendered at the same time he resigned the headship of the university at the request of the pope, was declined and action was of course, largely due to the high regard in which the deceased rector is held. Another vacancy had been caused in the board by the death of Bishop Hurst, of St. Cloud, who was a strong adherent of the party opposed to Archbishop Ireland, and it was supposed his successor would hold similar views. Archbishop Riordan, of San Francisco, a friend of Archbishop Ireland's, was elected, and this, it is claimed, places a strong and influential member of the American party in the board.

The meeting was presided over by Cardinal Gibbons, as chancellor of the university. Among the other directors present were Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia; Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Archbishop Chappel, of Santa Fe; Bishop Maes, of Covington; Bishop Forel, of Detroit; Bishop Horstman, of Cleveland; Bishop Farley, auxiliary bishop of New York; Rev. Father Thomas S. Lee, pastor of St. Matthew's church of this city, and Mr. Thomas E. Waggaman, also of Washington.

There was present also, as ex-officio members of the board, who were not entitled to a vote on any of the questions presented Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati; Kalzer, of Milwaukee; Riordan, of San Francisco; Kain, of St. Louis; Gross, of Oregon, and Fehan, of Chicago.

The board of directors later gave out the following list of names they had selected to be forwarded to Rome from which it is expected the holy father will select one for the rectorship of the Catholic university: Rev. T. J. Conaty, D.D., of Worcester, Mass.; Very Rev. J. A. Mooney, of New York, and Rev. Daniel Riordan, of Chicago. The board followed strictly the letter of the constitution, which says that the rector must be a priest. The late rector, Bishop Keane, was elected to his position before the constitution was enforced.

SOLID SHOT USED

To Stop the Filibustering Steamer Dauntless Off New Smyrna, Fla.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 22.—Off New Smyrna bar Wednesday morning the United States cruiser Raleigh captured the filibustering steamer Dauntless and her tender M. Abrey. The Dauntless was caught about 6 o'clock and the M. Abrey later. The latter steamer was putting out to sea with coal and supplies for the Dauntless when the Raleigh fired a blank cartridge for her to stop. The M. Abrey turned about and tried to escape, whereupon the Raleigh fired a solid shot across her bows and the tug heaved to. An officer was put in charge of the M. Abrey and the Dauntless was brought to St. John's bar and now lies inside in charge of Officer Gralagh. Cubans here are greatly excited, but claim that the Dauntless had no arms nor men on board. In chasing and capturing the Dauntless the Raleigh used her guns several times and the alleged filibuster came near being sunk.

Victims of Fire.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 22.—The family of Valentine Brown has been burned out four times in three years. The whole family narrowly escaped death Wednesday night in a fire. The Browns were first burned out in New York, where three sons were smothered to death.

Capt. Dietz's Third Term.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—Adj.-Gen. Axline has accepted the resignation of First Lieut. B. C. Taylor, Company K, First infantry, Cincinnati, and has issued a commission to Capt. E. P. Dietz, Company B, First infantry. This is Capt. Dietz's third term of service.

RESTRAINING ORDER

Granted Against the Boycotting of the Clover Leaf Railway.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 22.—Clarence Brown, of Toledo, representing the Clover Leaf railway, appeared before Judge A. J. Ricks in the United States district court Wednesday and secured a temporary restraining order against the Lake Shore, Nickel Plate and Michigan Central roads, representing the joint traffic association.

It prevents them from changing present relations with the Clover Leaf in regard to the interchange of passenger and freight business. The case will be heard December 1. Judge William represented the Nickel Plate while Judge George C. Greene appeared for the Lake Shore. Mr. Brown, attorney for the Clover Leaf in his statement to the court, said:

"Thirty-eight roads compose the Joint Traffic association and they attempted to compel the Clover Leaf to become a member, which it refused to do. Then the Traffic association established rules and tariff charges governing its roads and connecting lines by which our line refused to be bound. Then they concluded to sever all connections with us. We hold the action of these companies to be in contempt of court, for the Clover Leaf is in the hands of a receiver appointed by this court. Action of that character will prevent the operation of the road in obedience to the court's mandate, by destroying traffic on the line. The effect of the restraining order will compel all roads doing business with the Clover Leaf to continue existing relations."

THE AKRON FIRE.

Two Lives Were Lost in the Whitmore-Robinson China Works Conflagration.

AKRON, O., Oct. 22.—Two lives were lost in the fire which destroyed the Whitmore-Robinson china works late Tuesday night, in addition to $300,000 damage to property.

An unknown man, was literally baked in an almost red-hot empty kiln. Doc Tanner, a workman who slept in the factory, also perished.

There is no doubt the blaze was of incendiary origin, and an attempt to burn the Hill sewer pipe works was also made, a pile of straw saturated with oil being found in the company's office Wednesday. The Whitmore-Robinson company had $50,000 insurance, placed in the Squire, App & Hahn agency of Cleveland, in what companies can not be ascertained. They will probably rebuild.

A Mysterious Death.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 22.—Joe Lupinek, living here, was a student in the Western Reserve academy at Hudson. Last Monday he left home to take the train for school. That afternoon he was found in East Madison avenue with his skull fractured. His satchel, containing books, was torn open and the contents scattered about. He was carried home. He was unconscious up to Thursday morning, when he died. There is no clue to his assailants. Lupinek was 20 years old.

Doing Business Without a License.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 22.—William Hall, who is in charge of the Palmer and Buckner gold democratic headquarters in Portsmouth, has been arrested on the charge of doing business without a license. Mr. Hall had sold a number of Mexican dollars for 50 cents, they being sold as an object lesson to show that an American dollar would be worth only 50 cents under a free coinage. The trial will come up Thursday.

Angry Father's Terrible Deed.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 22.—For angrily burning his baby, so that it died, James Yeuett has been committed to jail here. Testimony before the coroner shows that on several occasions Yeuett became greatly enraged at the child, and seized it and held its feet over a stove until the skin was burned from them. The child died suddenly, and an examination of the body showed that it was covered with bruises from head to feet.

Decline in the Price of Wheat.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Dollar wheat was farther off by several degrees Thursday morning than it was Wednesday. The rapidity with which prices glided downward at the opening of the market Thursday was quite as great as that attending any stage of the advance. Wednesday's curb was weak, a full cent drop from the regular close taking place. Yet lower figures were quoted at the start Thursday, December opening from 74½c to 75½c, and quickly declining to 73½c.

Gold From Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—A shipment of English sovereigns, valued at about $2,575,000, brought by the steamer Monowal, which arrived from Australia Thursday morning, is consigned to the assistant United States treasurer for storage. The last shipment, a month ago, was valued at $1,500,000.

Tramcar Auten a Fugitive.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22.—James W. Auten, the embroiling village treasurer of Pleasant Ridge, is now really a fugitive from justice. A warrant was issued for his arrest Wednesday by Prosecutor Nippert, at the instance of John J. Acomb, the village solicitor. The charge is embezzlement and the amount specified is $675, which amount he is already known to be short. He is said to be located in Mexico.

A Boy's Damage Suit.

ELYRIA, O., Oct. 22.—Adolphus Sanders, a 12-year-old boy of Lorain, has brought suit against the Elyria and Lorain electric line, asking $5,000 damages on account of injuries received September 6, 1895. He claims that the motorman knocked him off the platform of the car without asking him for his fare or without any cause whatever.
